MONESSEN POLICEMAN MURDER VICTIM; HIS ALLEGED ASSAILANT IS CAUGHT TODAY

State Troopers Arrest Noah Hough Who is Accused of Doing the Shooting

DETAILS ARE RELATED

Policeman Lang Tells of Oc- currence—Mother Dudgeon and Two Women Arrested at Uniontown

Leading a raid on an alleged disorderly house at Wireton, a Monessen suburb, Saturday night at 11:15 o'clock, Acting Chief Michael Entinger of the Monessen police force was shot through the heart, and instantly killed. His supposed assailant was Noah Hough, a former Belle Vernon policeman, who made his escape.

Noah Hough the man accused of the murder was arrested at Barren Run, near Scottsdale today at noon. He was traced from West Newton to Smithton, from Smithton to Banning, from Banning to Creek Hill, and thence to Barren Run. The arrest was made by Privates Ames, Moore and Merrifield, of the State Constabulary. Hough was in bed at a relative's when he was caught and it is understood put up no resistance. He will be taken to Greensburg this afternoon to be lodged in jail, the feeling against him at Monessen being of such nature that his return there might mean trouble. Hough was traced to Smithton through the arrival of a horseman who came to Monessen Sunday night. Soon after Private Ames left Monessen for that place.

The murder occurred at an alleged disorderly house conducted it is understood by a woman known as Mother Dudgeon and Hough. It was raided on February 10 and both Mother Dudgeon and Hough are under bond of $500 each to appear in court to answer to charges made as the result. Hough is accused of pandering, in that he is said to have lived off the profits of his daughter Emma, aged 16, at the time of the first raid an inmate of the house. Her present whereabouts are unknown, she having left Monessen Saturday night of the murder.

Three in Raiding Party.
Entinger was accompanied to the house by Policemen John Lang and Kit Wheatley, Entinger as chief in the absence of Chief John Wheatley, who is ill. Wheatley and Lang went to the front door of the house and knocked. Their summons brought no answer. Then leaving Wheatley to guard the front Lang went to the back door, where Entinger had first gone. Entinger knocked.

A man whom Policeman Lang affirms was Hough opened the door. Lang tells the story:

"What do you want," he gruffly demanded. "I want in," replied Entinger who started to enter.

"You can't get in," said Hough. Then according to Officer Lang, who was directly behind Entinger, the man drew a revolver and shoved it directly against Entinger's breast pulling the trigger. The bullet entered Entinger's heart. With a groan he stepped backward, walking about ten feet away to plunge forward on his face dead. Policeman Lang says that Hough closed the door immediately. Then Lang says he went to the window and fired through at Hough, but the bullet went wild. Events occurred in quick succession. Even before Entinger had gotten off the porch, Hough is said to have opened the door again, and to have fired his second and last shot. It found a target in the stricken man's hip.

Escape by Front Door.
Lang chased around the corner of the house to summon Wheatley. While he was gone Hough and the three women and two other men said to have been in the house, must have escaped by the front door. Lang and Wheatley remained in the vicinity of the house, guarding the premises until about 1 o'clock, but found no one. By 1:30 o'clock, the beginning was let go as not having been concerned in the disorderly conduct at the place.

Talk of Lynching.
Within thirty minutes after the shooting occurred, Sergeant Stout and his detachment of State Police from Monongahela were on the scene. All night long the bridge was filled with people looking for Hough. Policeman Entinger was very popular and if the mad populace had four his murderer, there would likely have been a tale of lynching to tell today.

A thorough search of the territory failed to reveal trace of Hough, or any of the supposed inmates. The State police were on the job the rest of the night. Sergeant Stout conducted the work of search from the Monessen police station.

Women Arrested.
Mary Dudgeon, known as "Mother" Dudgeon, 41 years old; Emma Reynolds, 21 years old and Blanche West, 23 years old, were arrested at 4 o'clock Sunday morning in the Baltimore & Ohio station at Uniontown as they were about to board a train for West Virginia. The women were held for the Westmoreland county murder. The women said they had walked to Belle Vernon after the murder and boarded a Pittsburg & Lake Erie train going to Brownsville and making the trip from there on a street car. The women were arrested at the request of Policeman John Hutchcraft of the Fayette City force who telephoned that the women were headed for Uniontown. It is believed by the State police that Hough went in the direction of the Youghiogheny valley and detachments have been searching for him since the crime was committed.

Hough's Children Suffer.
Hough lately it seems has developed into a "bad" man. Within the last year, it is said by the Monessen police, he has been arrested three times, all on practically the same charges, of conducting a bawdy house. He used to live in Belle Vernon, where for a year he was a member of the police force. He left that position about a year ago. A year and a half ago his wife died, leaving him to care for three children. One of them, the oldest is a girl by the name of Emma, who though but 16 years of age, has already become, it is stated a veteran in vice. A boy, Charles, aged 12, lived at the home of Mother Dudgeon, and a girl of 8 was cared for by her grandmother, Mrs. Hough, living at Scottsdale. Hough married a woman by

COUNTY OFFICIALS NEGLECTED DUTY IS CHARGE AT MONESSEN

Caustic Comments Heard Today on Behavior of County Authorities—Murder Declared to be the Result

It is quite probable that were the recall in effect in Pennsylvania it would be invoked on some of the Westmoreland county officials. The murder of Lieutenant Michael Entinger of the Monessen police force has aroused public sentiment there to a white heat. Monessen people are stirred up and indignant over the brutal murder of one of their best officers and citizens and were they in a position to take such drastic action as to initiate a recall, it is quite probable that they would not hesitate to act. The county authorities have been appealed to time and again, it is stated, to wipe out the lawless conditions at Wireton which were a constant menace to life and property of the people in that community and incidentally to Monessen. Local officials either could not or would not act, and appeals were made to the district attorney and sheriff to afford relief, but to no avail.

This morning the county officials are being hotly condemned by the people for their negligence, and the whole community is aroused. Action will be taken by the Monessen council and the result will be that the bad conditions will be wiped out. The fact that two proprietresses of alleged bawdy houses at Wireton who were arrested in a raid by local officers a short time ago were released on bail and immediately resumed operations is also arousing a lot of caustic comment.

It is also stated that the school board of Rostraver township not long ago petitioned the district attorney of Westmoreland county to do something to remove the evil conditions that existed at Wireton. One of the school houses is located not far from the houses that were the most notorious and the school children were subjected to demoralizing sights and language by those who frequented the resorts. It is stated that the district attorney sent a county detective over from Greensburg who looked around, it is supposed but did nothing so far as could be seen.

Today, it is stated the alleged tenement part of Wireton is practically deserted. All the deizens who are under suspicion or likely to be gathered in on a raid have "flew the coop."

Among these it is stated, is one of the alleged proprietresses, Dora Gilmore, who was released on bail after the recent raid. A Monessen man is on her bond for $500 but at this writing she is among the missing. Intimations are made that some sensational developments will follow shortly.

The name of Hough, but it is his mother who lives in Scottsdale.

Boy a Bright Chap.

The boy has remained in Monessen and is being cared for by the Monessen police. He is a bright young chap, who isn't very sorry that his father is missing. He seems to have had a good mother who took pains to teach him what was right. He said Mother Dudgeon took him to keep several months ago, when his father went to live there. His story was that he ran errands for the woman. His lips were brown. "Do you chew tobacco?" he was asked. "Oh no sir, that's chewing gum," he smiled engagingly. "What will you do now that your father and Mother Dudgeon are both gone?" was asked. "Oh, I don't know." Into his eyes crept the first look of care. It is believed by the police that he will make a most important witness, if he isn't frightened by the appearance of some of his former guardians.

Letter From Akron Girl.

The source of the raid is said to have been from a letter received recently by Chief of Police John Wheatley from a girl whose name is said to be Icie Roberts, living at Akron, O. "If you want testimony," she is said to have written, "I can give it against Noah Hough." In her letter it is stated she told Chief Wheatley that Hough had made her strip on a certain occasion in order that he might profit from a visit of a Greek to the house where she was staying.

Council to Push Case.

Sometime today it is likely that the Monessen council will be called together for a few minutes in order to engage counsel to push the case against Hough to the limit. W. T. Domm is the district attorney of Westmoreland county who will likely be called upon to conduct the case for the county. Wireton, where the murder was committed is notorious. In the recent white slave traffic revelations made by District Attorney Miller of Washington, Wireton figured to some extent.

Funeral on Tuesday.

Patrolman Entinger, the murdered man was 52 year old. His widow, one son, Jacob, married and living in Monessen, two daughters, Misses Lena and Mary, at home, survive. He was a member of St. Leonard's Roman Catholic church at Monessen.

the Knights of St. George, the Loyal Order of Moose and the Fraternal Order of Eagles. His widow stated that the funeral services would probably be held on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Leonard's church, with interment in the Grandview cemetery at Monessen. He has been one of the most active in the recent warfare against the disorderly houses of Monessen. He had been a member of the Monessen police force for five years. Previous to that time for about four years he conducted a grocery.

DR. J. C. ENOS PURCHASER OF JOHNSTON HOME

The dwelling of Jesse K. Johnston on Crest avenue, near Fifth street has been purchased by Dr. J. Clive Enos, who expects to occupy the house about the first of April. Mr. Johnston and his wife will probably move to Pittsburg about the first of the month. Mr. Johnston has been superintendent of the Charleroi Coal works for many years, and has been recognized as one of the leading men of the community. His dwelling on Crest avenue a beautiful place was erected for him.

Boy Loses His Suit

Leaves Newly Purchased Outfit at Railroad Station-- Gone in Short Time

Trusting too much to the honesty of people lost Robert Donaldson, aged about 10, the son of E. P. Donaldson, of Newell a new suit of clothes on Saturday afternoon. The boy in company with his brother of about 15 came to Charleroi Saturday afternoon, and purchased a new suit. Going to the railroad station the suit was left on a seat at about 4 o'clock while the two lads went out for a moment. When they returned to wait for the train, the suit was gone. A search was instituted and the railroad police were notified.

Man Who Was in House at Wireton is Ap- prehended

SAYS ESCAPE WAS EASY

Inmates Went Out in Every Direction His Statement-- Taken to Monessen

What is regarded as a most important arrest in connection with the murder of Acting Chief of Police Michael Entinger at Monessen Saturday night was made here shortly before noon today by Chief of Police C. W. Albright and Policemen James Murphy. The man arrested was a Polandier who gave his name as Andy Graylock of Arnold City.

Graylock admitted to having been in the house of Mother Dudgeon when the shooting of the policeman occurred. He says escape was easy. Mother Dudgeon opened the door when he and another of his countrymen went to the place, he says and told them to be careful.

She is said to have advised the two men to go up stairs where they would find others. Graylock said they had not been up there very long until Mother Dudgeon called to them to go to the cellar quick that there was trouble. No sooner had they got into the basement until two shots were fired.

Graylock says they came from the cellar by a trap door in the first floor. The girls and men who were at the place he says went out of the house in all directions. He and the man that was with him walked some distance away and saw two men standing together handcuffed. In a little while it is stated a policeman approached them.

"What do you want us for?" they asked, "we have done nothing." They were let go.

Graylock says there were three girls in the house at the time of the shooting together with Mother Dudgeon. One of the girls was the daughter of Noah Hough, the man accused of having shot the murdered policeman.

This afternoon Graylock was taken to Monessen by a member of the State constabulary who came after him. He will be held as a witness.

Renders "Hallelujah Chorus."

The Methodist Episcopal church was the mecca for local music lovers Sunday from the mere fact that the chorus choir of that church, under direction of August H. Bosson, rendered the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's Messiah. The number was sung in the morning and repeated in the evening again by request. The choir handled the difficult chorus beautifully.

A GHASTLY TOLL.

A toleration of vice conditions in the suburbs of Monessen by the officials of Westmoreland county has resulted in the usual tragedy and toll of human life. As usual, in most cases of tolerated vice and crime a ghastly murder is required to arouse public sentiment to the proper pitch of compelling their sworn officials to do their duty. In this case a faithful subordinate officer is slain in trying to perform his duty, leaving a wife and children without their natural protector.

To the officials of Westmoreland county is attached the blame of this heinous crime. Their attention has repeatedly been called to the infamous conditions that have long existed at Whetson, which is not under the police jurisdiction of Monessen, but was nevertheless a constant menace to that town. When the district attorney of Washington county unearthed the nefarious organized gang of White Slave traffickers, it was shown that the headquarters of the band was in Westmoreland county, and the district attorney there was urged to co-operate with the Washington county official in exterminating the gang. Local officials started the movement that has resulted in the tragedy of Sunday. The county officials were indifferent and inactive.

One of the results of the ghastly crime is that the good people of Monessen and vicinity are thoroughly aroused over the dereliction of the county officials and their flagrant neglect of duty. The community about Whetson has long been a public menace, but the Westmoreland county officials were utterly indifferent and refused to do anything effective to restore order and make life and property safe. The one never was a time that they could not have cleared out the lawless element, there had they been so disposed. They were indifferent to the requirements of their oath of office to the public, and permitted the lawless conditions to exist until a ghastly climax was reached.

An indignant public will no doubt compel drastic action, but this will be small consolation to the widow and orphans of the officer whose life was sacrificed on account of the county officials' indifference and neglect of duty.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

President Wilson seems at least to be a very discreet person. Anybody who has had as much experience with boisterous college men and nosing newspaper men as he is generally supposed to have had ought to be too. The tariff bill is to be the first operated upon.

Whether Dr. Friedmann is afflicted with a mania similar to explorer Dr. Woods seems to have no bearing on his chances for a profitable lecture tour.

Some lecturers say lecturing is unremunerative. Bryan though seems to have succeeded very well at the business.

Harry Thaw thinks he is the victim of degenerates. The people will admit that if he only classes himself among them.

It seems a shame for a ball player to swathe himself in his heaviest woolen underwear and bury himself in his greatest top coat just when he is starting for his spring training camp.

The dog show at Pittsburgh closed without a single dog fight.

Gertrude Hoffman is in Pittsburgh this week. Pittsburgh will be so excited—and sensationalized—that it won't care whether the Mafie bill passes or not.

A Waynesburger just back from Washington, D.C., declares the inauguration is the most expensive free show he ever attended. He helped make it that.

A Spelzer bill calls for an appropriation of $300,000 for a state symphony orchestra. It might be nice but the farmers down in Greene county and Bedford county won't appreciate paying out good money for music that never gets any nearer to them than Pittsburgh or Philadelphia.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"I'm one of the discontented poor," remarked a man who holds a responsible position in one of the big industries of the valley, but who lives in Charleroi, in a discussion as to the cost of living the other evening. "It is true that I never got as big pay at any period in my life, as I do now, and as a matter of fact I was never so hard up and poor as I am now. It is one continual struggle from pay day to pay day to make ends meet, and then I am always behind with some small bills. We are not extravagant. I don't drink a drop of anything intoxicating, nor squander any money in personal amusements or recreation; neither does my wife and family. Our sole extravagance is moderate smoking of a pipe or tobies on my part, and going to the picture shows occasionally for my wife and children. I know that we pay more than we ought to for rent, but so does every one else in the town. The rest of the income goes in trying to live respectably and appearing as well as our neighbors in the sphere of society in which we move.

"Nevertheless, it makes me sore to think that I am so hard pushed all the time. When I was first married I had a job as woods foreman at a lumbering establishment in the northern part of the state. I got the magnificent sum of $15 a month, and the company built me a house at the camp, for which I paid $1 a month rent. I was there three years at the same rate of pay and saved money. I remember the first year my household and personal expenses were exactly $312 when I was told at the end of the year, and the company gave me a check for $225 to balance the account. The next year we had a baby, and my balance wasn't out so big. Anyhow, I left the job at its conclusion at the end of three years with $500 to the good.

"Now the $15 a month I used to get appears ridiculous, but all the same I'm a blamed sight worse off than I was at that time. I have to watch every penny, am never able to take any recreation and have to go without a thousand small things I desire that would add to the personal pleasure and comfort of myself and family. I'm shabby, and so are my wife and children, and yet measure by the standards I first knew when we started out in our married life I ought to save a lot of money out of my pay I earn. Whenever my pay raised the price of everything else seems to follow.

"These are the things that has made me brood over the political and economical conditions until I am radical and ready to follow the crowd that will upset existing conditions. I instinctively realize that there is no hope for me to better my condition as things now are. I never had any trouble getting a job, but the mere matter of a chance to work—leave to toil, as Bobby Burns puts it—doesn't satisfy me. I want something else, means to gratify the intellectual pleasures of life. That's why I'm 'agin' things as they are, and am with the crowd that goes after government for the people instead of the politicians using the people for the government."

UNIONTOWN STORE IS ORGANIZED

Local Co-operators Branch Formed in Fayette Town

One prohibitionist, two Democrats, three Socialists and one who is "agin" politics because he says politics are rotten, composed the directorate of a newly organized Co-operative store at Uniontown. The store will be a branch of the Charleroi Progressive Co-Operative Association. It consists of 204 members and the capital is $3,084. A central location has been secured in the business center of the town. Women of Uniontown are taking an active part in the movement and one of them is on the board of directors.

Officers chosen are: E. L. Chipley, president; J. C. Young, vice president; and James E. Cotton, secretary-treasurer. August Mahieu and Samuel Pa doc, of Charleroi were present at the organization meeting.

KEPT AN EYE ON THE HOUSE.

A Neighboring Act That Resulted in a Comedy of Errors.

A gentleman and his wife occupying a villa in a London suburb asked a neighbor to "keep an eye on the place while they were away on their annual holiday. The neighbor consented and on the first night of his caretaking noticed a light in the bedroom of the presumably unoccupied house and saw the light extinguished.

Accompanied by a policeman, the neighbor made a forcible entrance through the scullery window, and quietly the two men made their way to the bedroom. The light of the constable's bullseye disclosed the head of a man in bed, and the policeman promptly drew his truncheon.

As promptly the occupant of the bed sprang out, and a desperate struggle began. Simultaneously a lady dashed across the room shrieking, threw open the window and at considerable peril clambered out. A second constable passing at the moment, concluded that the lady was bent on suicide and entering the front garden, held himself in readiness to catch the woman, who appeared to be about to fling herself to the ground.

The neighbor, however, dragged the lady back into the room, and then the truth began to assert itself. The captured invader of the empty house and the escaping lady were the occupant and his wife, who had suddenly changed their holiday arrangements without informing their too vigilant neighbor.—London Globe

UP THE RIVER

During the first two months of the new year the births in Belle Vernon have exceeded the deaths by five. In January there were 2 deaths and 10 births; in February 3 births and 6 deaths.

Samuel G. Dixon, State Commissioner of Health has appointed Samuel B. Steepy of Washington township Fayette county as health officer for Belle Vernon.

The Ladies Aid society of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Belle Vernon will hold their annual Easter bazaar in the church on Friday and Saturday evenings March 14 and 15.

Belle Vernon merchants are getting ready for the spring campaign and are advertising liberally in their home paper. Since the organization of the Civic club and the efforts to advance the interests of the town the local stores have caught the spirit, and more of the trade that formerly went out of town is being retained at home.

At the regular meeting of the Fayette City council last week John T. Davidson one of the councilmen, resigned. His successor has not yet been elected by his former colleagues.

The old mill near Fayette City, which was the scene of the chicken fight and raid recently, was not used formerly by the United Brethren congregation of Gillespie for their regular preaching services or for a place in which to worship, is the statement of a member of that congregation. It was however used by them for church socials and suppers.

Fayette City merchants had a splendid array of advertisements of spring and seasonal goods in their home paper, the Journal last week. The local merchants are not only making bigger efforts than ever to keep trade from going out of town, but are reaching out for outside trade. The Fayette City stores have improved greatly during the past year.

It is reported that a man who attended the recent chicken fight near Fayette City had two game roosters at the fight and during the scramble to get away when the officers made the raid, picked up a sack in which he thought his roosters were and carried it carefully all the way home only to find out the sack contained two dead birds. He's wondering now where his own live birds are.

A. E. Thomas, cashier of the Citizens Bank at Fayette City was elected cashier of the First National Bank of Monessen last week. Mr. Thomas has tendered his resignation to take effect April 1. He has been cashier of the Citizens for the past five years and is president of the Fayette City school board. His successor at the Citizens has not yet been selected.

Rev. Lawson Campbell, evangelist for the Western Pennsylvania Christian Missionary Society of the Disciples of Christ started a series of evangelistic meetings at the California Christian church Sunday. The meetings will continue for three weeks.

At its regular meeting last week the Phillipsburgh board ordered uniform for the coming summer. The uniforms selected are of navy blue trimmed in gold braid and the latest cut. They will arrive by the first of April and as a result this organization will present a greatly improved appearance this summer. New music has arrived and there is plenty of work ahead. The hours of practice were set at 7:30 to 9 on Tuesday and on local music are extended an invitation to attend. The band needs lites, tenors and corn.

Because of the inauguration of the new Federal eight hour law, Howard Cowthers is officiating as evening clerk at the California postoffice. Mr. Cowthers was formerly assistant postmaster at Roscoe and is well known by many and experienced in the position.

Kaufman, who conducts a clothing and clothing store in the town and in Millsboro has about completed arrangements for the erecting of a good sized addition to his Frederick, Md. store.

Brownsville clerks have begun a agitation for early closing hours. They want to open up at 8 a. m. and close at 6 p. m. They are of the opinion that nine hours ought to be a day's work with perhaps 14 on Saturday and Monday on pay days.

FAST BOXING MATCHES AT TURNER HALL

Deitz of Charleroi and Rooney of Donora Meet in the Final

IS ALMOST A KNOCKOUT

Lovers of good boxing got to see plenty of mixing at Turner Hall on Saturday night when Miles Rooney, of Donora, and Mutts Deitz, of Charleroi fought a six-round bout. It came pretty nearly not being a one round affair let alone six rounds. Deitz clattered Rooney on the left side of the jaw after about a minute and a half of sparring. The astonished Rooney measured his length on the floor and staid there until it looked as though time was up. Then he wobbled to his feet, to be soaked again with the same kind of blow. His sensibilities jarred he went under the ropes. Timekeeper H. L. Swickey rushed into the ring to call time up, but in the hubbub, nobody seemed to hear him. Plainly it looked like a knockout and one to end the whole scrap. Instead of ending the fight it ended the round. By the second round Rooney was in fair shape and stuck to it until the end. Had there been a decision it would have gone to Deitz.

Deitz and Rooney furnished the final of four matches. After the first round until the fifth Deitz and Rooney mixed it without either getting much of an advantage. In the fifth the Charleroi boy stiffened a right to the Donora lads jaw and put him groggy. When the round ended Rooney was still in rather a colloppable state. The bout was fast with both men fighting hard.

The first preliminary was between the Gillingham twins of Webster. These lads of about 15 years put up some fast boxing. Kid Frascatore of Dorora and Ed. Coleman, of Monessen, battled six rounds without either gaining much of an advantage, save that due to the superior size of Coleman. Young Laurie of Charleroi, and Fritz Elsner of Donora went through six rounds. Elsner was given more to hiding behind his gloves than to boxing and took a lot of punishment. When he did fight back he planted some pretty heavy blows. Tim Wilson was the referee for all the matches.

Land of the Automat.
Germany might almost be called "the land of the automat." Automatic devices of all kinds are popular and are used for a thousand purposes. At all postoffices stamps and post cards are sold by automatic machines; at the railway stations platform tickets and suburban tickets are sold by automats; automat restaurants, where one can secure a glass of beer, wine or liquor, a sandwich, square meal, cup of coffee, chocolate, etc., by dropping a coin in the slot, abound everywhere. Every city of 15,000 or 20,000 population and over has from one to several hundred such restaurants. At railway stations automats sell chocolate, candy, picture post cards and even a little kit of "first aid to the injured" containing a few drops of pain killer, bandages, needle, thread, etc. Ten pfennigs in a slot opens the door of toilet compartments, delivering a towel or piece of soap. A coin in a slot obtains a cigar, a tune from a mechanical music box, a pair of shoe strings, a collar button, a visiting card, name plate for suit case, tells one's fortune or weight, etc.—United States Consular Report.

An Offended Painter.

Here is a story of Whistler's disgraceful treatment of Lady Meux, of whom he painted three portraits. It is told in Thomas Wain's "Memoirs of Whistler."

"In view of the number of sittings Whistler wanted and his severe treatment of his models, I think it enormously to the credit of Lady Meux that she should have continued through two and started on the third portrait in which she was painted wearing a mantle of Russian sables. There was a story that, being one day not up to the mark, she sent her maid to stand for her, dressed in the sables. This so offended Whistler that promptly the maid's face appeared in place of that of the mistress, and, if the picture still exists, there it probably remains."

Reason For It.

At a debating society some time ago the Irish question was discussed. An English doctor was sustaining the argument that the Irish were naturally a race with right sentiments, but poorly developed. At Liverpool, he said, he had 300 Irish patients on his books and of these only thirty paid him for attendance.

"Sorr," said an Irishman, who rose with flushed cheek to defend his countrymen—"Sorr, there is never an effect without a cause. There is never a phenomenon that does not admit of an explanation. How can we explain the astounding phenomenon to which the doctor has called our attention? He finds an explanation in the natural depravity of the Irish nature. I, sorr, have another explanation to give, and it is this—the thirty patients recover ed!"—Pearson's Weekly.

Parisians and Nerves.

The Parisians suffer from nervous attacks to an appalling extent. "If one invites any Parisians to dinner one must be prepared for regimens," writes Miss Annesley in "My Parisian Year." "This man cannot eat bread and must drink only white wine, that woman can eat only 'alimentaires,' another must begin with hot water. . . . I was at a dinner once where there were sixteen guests; seven of those were on special diet, and three had little bottles of pills with them." . . . was at the house of a noted writer one afternoon, and his wife took his temperature five times in an hour and a half. The last time the thermometer marked 100 degrees. Madame flew to the telephone and implored the doctor to come."

State Troopers Arrest Noah Hough Who is Accused of Doing the Shooting

Policeman Lang Tells of Oc- currence—Mother Dudgeon and Two Women Arrested at Uniontown

Leading a raid on an alleged disorderly house at Wireton, a Monessen suburb, Saturday night at 11:15 o'clock, Acting Chief Michael Entinger of the Monessen police force was shot through the heart, and instantly killed. His supposed assailant was Noah Hough, a former Belle Vernon policeman, who made his escape. Noah Hough the man accused of the murder was arrested at Barren Run, near Scottdale today at noon. He was traced from West Newton to Smithton, from Smithton to Banning, from Banning to Creek Hill, and thence to Barren Run. The arrest was made by Privates Ames, Moore and Merrifield, of the State Constabulary. Hough was in bed at a relative's when he was caught and it is understood put up no resistance. He will be taken to Greensburg this afternoon to be lodged in jail, the feeling against him at Monessen being of such nature that his return there might mean trouble. Hough was traced to Smithton through the arrival of a horseman who came to Monessen Sunday night. Soon after Private Ames left Monessen for that place.

The murder occurred at an alleged disorderly house conducted it is understood by a woman known as Mother Dudgeon and Hough. It was raided on February 10 and both Mother Dudgeon and Hough are under bond of $500 each to appear in court to answer to charges made as the result. Hough is accused of pandering, in that he is said to have lived off the profits of his daughter Emma, aged 16, at the time of the first raid on the house. Her present whereabouts are unknown, she having left Monessen Saturday night of the murder.

Three in Raiding Party.
Entinger was accompanied to the house by Policemen John Lang and Kit Wheatley, Entinger as chief in the absence of Chief John Wheatley, who is ill. Wheatley and Lang went to the front door of the house and knocked. Their summons brought no answer. Then leaving Wheatley to guard the front Lang went to the back door, where Entinger had first gone. Entinger knocked.

A man whom Policeman Lang affirms was Hough opened the door. Lang tells the story:
"What do you want," he gruffly demanded. "I want in," replied Entinger who started to enter.
"You can't get in," said Hough. Then according to Officer Lang, who was directly behind Entinger, the man drew a revolver and shoved it directly against Entinger's breast pulling the trigger. The bullet entered Entinger's heart. With a groan he stepped backward, walking about ten feet away to plunge forward on his face dead. Policeman Lang says that Hough closed the door immediately. Then Lang says he went to the window and fired through at Hough, but the bullet went wild. Events occurred in quick succession. Even before Entinger had gotten off the porch, Hough is said to have opened the door again and to have fired his second and last shot. It found a target in the stricken man's hip.

Escape by Front Door.
Lang chased around the corner of the house to summon Wheatley. While he was gone Hough and the three women and two other men said to have been in the house, must have escaped by the front door. Lang and Wheatley remained in the vicinity of the house, guarding the premises until about 1 o'clock, but found no one. The beginning were let go as not having been concerned in the disorderly conduct at the place.

Talk of Lynching.
Within thirty minutes after the shooting occurred, Sergeant Stout and his detachment of State Police from Monongahela were on the scene. All night long the bridge was filled with people looking for Hough. Policeman Entinger was very popular and if the mad populace had found his murderer, there would likely have been a tale of lynching to tell today. A thorough search of the territory failed to reveal trace of Hough, or any of the supposed inmates. The State police were on the job the rest of the night. Sergeant Stout conducted the work of search from the Monessen police station.

Women Arrested.
Mary Dudgeon, known as "Mother" Dudgeon, 41 years old; Emma Reynolds, 21 years old and Blanche West, 23 years old, were arrested at 4 o'clock Sunday morning in the Baltimore & Ohio station at Uniontown as they were about to board a train for West Virginia. The women were held for the Westmoreland county murder. The women said they had walked to Belle Vernon after the murder and boarded a Pittsburgh & Lake Erie train going to Brownsville and making the trip from there on a street car. The women were arrested at the request of Policeman John Hutchcraft of the Fayette City force who telephoned that the women were headed for Uniontown. It is believed by the State police that Hough went in the direction of the Youghiogheny valley and detachments have been searching for him since the crime was committed.

Hough's Children Suffer.
Hough lately it seems has developed into a "bad" man. Within the last year, it is said by the Monessen police, he has been arrested three times, all on practically the same charges, of conducting a bawdy house. He used to live in Belle Vernon, where for a year he was a member of the police force. He left that position about a year ago. A year and a half ago his wife died, leaving him to care for three children. One of them, the oldest is a girl by the name of Emma, who though but 16 years of age, has already become, it is stated a veteran in vice. A boy, Charles, aged 12, lived at the home of Mother Dudgeon, and a girl of 8 was cared for by her grandmother, Mrs. Hough, living at Scottdale. Hough married a woman by

It is quite probable that were the recall in effect in Pennsylvania it would be invoked on some of the Westmoreland county officials. The murder of Lieutenant Michael Entinger of the Monessen police force has aroused public sentiment there to a white heat. Monessen people are stirred up and indignant over the brutal murder of one of their best officers and citizens and were they in a position to take such drastic action as to initiate a recall, it is quite probable that they would not hesitate to act. The county authorities have been appealed to time and again, it is stated, to wipe out the lawless conditions at Wireton which were a constant menace to life and property of the people in that community and incidentally to Monessen. Local officials either could not or would not act, and appeals were made to the district attorney and sheriff to afford relief, but to no avail.

This morning the county officials are being hotly condemned by the people for their negligence, and the whole community is aroused. Action will be taken by the Monessen council and the result will be that the bad conditions will be wiped out. The fact that two proprietresses of alleged bawdy houses at Wireton who were arrested in a raid by local offi-

It is also stated that the school board of Rostraver township not long ago positioned the district attorney of Westmoreland county to do something to remove the evil conditions that existed at Wireton. One of the school houses is located not far from the houses that were the most notorious and the school children were subjected to demoralizing sights and language by those who frequented the resorts. It is stated that the district attorney sent a county detective over from Greensburg who looked around it is supposed but did nothing so far as could be seen.

Today, it is stated the alleged tenderloin part of Wireton is practically deserted. All the deizens who are under suspicion or likely to be gashed in on a raid have "flew the coop." Among these it is stated, is one of the alleged proprietresses, Dora Gilmore, who was released on bail after the recent raid. A Monessen man is on her bond for $500 but at this writing she is among the missing. Intimations are made that some sensational developments will follow shortly.

the name of Hough, but it is his mother who lives in Scottdale.

Boy a Bright Chap.
The boy has remained in Monessen and is being cared for by the Monessen police. He is a bright young chap, who isn't very sorry that his father is missing. He seems to have had a good mother who took pains to teach him what was right. He said Mother Dudgeon took him to keep several months ago, when his father went to live there. His story was that he ran errands for the woman. His lips were brown. "Do you chew tobacco?" he was asked. "Oh no sir, that's chewing gum," he smiled engagingly. "What will you do now that your father and Mother Dudgeon are both gone?" was asked. "Oh, I don't know," into his eyes crept the first look of care. It is believed by the police that he will make a most important witness, if he isn't frightened by the appearance of some of his former guardians.

Letter From Akron Girl.
The source of the raid is said to have been from a letter received recently by Chief of Police John Wheatley from a girl whose name is said to be Lele Roberts, living at Akron, O. "If you want testimony," she is said to have written, "I can give it against Noah Hough." In her letter it is stated she told Chief Wheatley that Hough had made her strip on a certain occasion in order that he might profit from a visit of a Greek to the house where she was staying.

Council to Push Case.

Sometime today it is likely that the Monessen council will be called together for a few minutes in order to engage counsel to push the case against Hough to the limit. W. T. Domm is the district attorney of Westmoreland county who will likely be called upon to conduct the case for the county. Wireton, where the murder was committed is notorious. In the recent white slave traffic revelations made by District Attorney Miller of Washington, Wireton figured to some extent.

Patrolman Entinger, the murdered man was 52 year old. His widow, or son, Jacob, married and living in Monessen, two daughters, Misses Lena and Mary, at home, survive. He was a member of St. Leonard's Roman Catholic church at Monessen, the Knights of St. George, the Loyal Order of Moose and the Fraternal Order of Eagles. His widow stated that the funeral services would probably be held on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Leonard's church, with interment in the Grandview cemetery at Monessen. He has been one of the most active in the recent warfare against the disorderly houses of Monessen. He had been a member of the Monessen police force for five years. Previous to that time for about four years he conducted a grocery.

DR. J. C. ENOS PURCHASER OF JOHNSTON HOME

The dwelling of Jesse K. Johnston on Crest avenue, near Fifth street has been purchased by Dr. J. Clive Enos, who expects to occupy the house about the first of April. Mr. Johnston and his wife will probably move to Pittsburgh about the first of the month. Mr. Johnston has been superintendent of the Charleroi Coal works for many years, and has been recognized as one of the leading men of the community. His dwelling on Crest avenue a beautiful place was erected for him.

Boy Loses His Suit

Leaves Newly Purchased Outfit at Railroad Station— Gone in Short Time

Trusting too much to the honesty of people lost Robert Donaldson, aged about 10, the son of E. P. Donaldson, of Newell a new suit of clothes on Saturday afternoon. The boy in company with his brother of about 15 came to Charleroi Saturday afternoon, and purchased a new suit. Going to the railroad station the suit was left on a seat at about 4 o'clock while the two lads went out for a moment. When they returned to wait for the train, the suit was gone. A search was instituted and the railroad police were notified.

Man Who Was in House at Wireton is Ap- prehended

SAYS ESCAPE WAS EASY

Inmate Went Out in Every Direction His Statement— Taken to Monessen

What is regarded as a most important arrest in connection with the murder of Acting Chief of Police Michael Entinger at Monessen Saturday night was made here shortly before noon today by Chief of Police C. W. Albright and Policemen James Murphy. The man arrested was a Poleander who gave his name as Andy Graylock of Arnold City.

Graylock admitted to having been in the house of Mother Dudgeon when the shooting of the policeman occurred. He says escape was easy. Mother Dudgeon opened the door when he and another of his countrymen went to the place, he says and told them to be careful.

She is said to have advised the two men to go up stairs where they would find others. Graylock said they had not been up there very long until Mother Dudgeon called to them to go to the cellar quick that there was trouble. No sooner had they got into the basement until two shots were fired.

Graylock says they came from the cellar by a trap door in the first floor. The girls and men who were at the place he says went out of the house in all directions. He and the man that was with him walked some distance away and saw two men standing together handcuffed. In a little while it is stated a policeman approached them.

"What do you want us for?" they asked, "we have done nothing." They were let go.

Graylock says there were three girls in the house at the time of the shooting together with Mother Dudgeon. One of the girls was the daughter of Noah Hough, the man accused of having shot the murdered policeman.

Readers "Hallelujah Chorus."
The Methodist Episcopal church was the mecca for local music-lovers Sunday from the mere fact that the chorus choir of that church, under direction of August H. Bosson, rendered the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's Messiah. The number was sung in the morning and repeated in the evening again by request. The choir handled the difficult chorus beautifully.

A GHASTLY TOLL.

A toleration of vice conditions in the suburbs of Monessen by the officials of Westmoreland county has resulted in the usual tragedy and toll of human life. As usual, in most cases of tolerated vice and crime a ghastly murder is required to arouse public sentiment to the proper pitch of compelling their sworn officials to do their duty. In this case a faithful subordinate officer is slain in trying to perform his duty, leaving a wife and children without their natural protector.

To the officials of Westmoreland county is attached the blame of this heinous crime. Their attention has repeatedly been called to the infamous conditions that have long existed at Wireton, which is not under the police jurisdiction of Monessen, but was nevertheless a constant menace to that town. When the district attorney of Washington county unearthed the nefarious organized gang of White Slave traffickers, it was shown that the headquarters of the band was in Westmoreland county, and the district attorney there was urged to co-operate with the Washington county official in exterminating the gang. Local officials started the movement that has resulted in the tragedy of Sunday. The county officials were indifferent and inactive.

One of the results of the ghastly crime is that the good people of Mon-essen and vicinity are thoroughly aroused over the dereliction of the county officials and their flagrant neglect of duty. The community about Wireton has long been a public menace, but the Westmoreland county officials were utterly indifferent and refused to do anything effective to restore order and make life and property safe. There never was a time that they could not have cleaned out the lawless element there had they been so disposed. They were indifferent to the requirements of their oath of office to the public, and permitted the lawless conditions to exist until a ghastly climax was reached.

An indignant public will no doubt compel drastic action, but this will be small consolation to the widow and orphans of the officer whose life was sacrificed on account of the county officials' indifference and neglect of duty.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

President Wilson seems at least to be a very discreet person. Anybody

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"I'm one of the discontented poor," remarked a man who holds a responsible position in one of the big industries of the valley, but who lives in Charleroi, in a discussion as to the cost of living the other evening. "It is true that I never got as big pay at any period in my life, as I do now, and as a matter of fact I was never so hard up and poor as I am now. It is one continual struggle from pay day to pay day to make ends meet, and then I am always behind with some small bills. We are not extravagant. I don't drink a drop of any thing intoxicating, nor squander any money in personal amusements or recreation; neither does my wife and family. Our sole extravagance is moderate smoking of a pipe or tobies on my part, and going to the picture shows occasionally for my wife and children. I know that we pay more than we ought to for rent, but so does every one else in the town. The rest of the income goes in trying to live respectably and appearing as well as our neighbors in the sphere of society in which we move.

"Nevertheless, it makes me sore to think that I am so hard pushed all the time. When I was first married I had a job as woods foreman at a lumbering establishment in the northern part of the state. I got the munificent sum of $45 a month, and the company built me a house at the camp for which I paid $3 a month rent. I was there three years at the same rate of pay and saved money.
I remember the first year my household and personal expenses were exactly $312 when I settled up at the end of the year, and the company gave me a check for $228 to balance the account. The next year we had a baby, and my balance wasn't quite so big. Anyhow, I left the job at the conclusion at the end of three years with $600 to the good.

"Now the $45 a month I used to get appears ridiculous, but all the same I'm a blamed sight worse off than I was at that time. I have to watch every penny, am never able to take any recreation and have to go without a thousand small things I desire that would add to the personal pleasure and comfort of myself and family.
I'm shabby, and so are my wife and children, and yet measurer by the standards I first knew when we started out in our married life I ought to save a lot of money out of my pay I earn. Whenever my pay raised the price of everything else seems to follow.

"These are the things that has made me brood over the political and economical conditions until I am radical and ready to follow the crowd that will upset existing conditions. I instinctively realize that there is no hope for me—to better my condition as things now are. I never had any trouble getting a job, but the mere matter of a chance to work—leave to toil, as Bobby Burns puts it—doesn't satisfy me. I want something else, means to gratify the intellectual pleasures of life. That's why I'm 'agin' things as they are,

and am with the crowd that goes after government for the people instead of the politicians using the people for the government."

Local Co-operators Branch Formed in Fayette Town

One prohibitionist, two Democrats, three Socialists and one who is
"agin' politics because he says politics are rotten, composed the directorate of a newly organized Co-operative store at Uniontown. The store will be a branch of the Charleroi Progressive Co-Operative Association.
It consists of 204 members and the capital is $3,084. A central location has been secured in the business center of the town. Women of Uniontown are taking an active part in the movement and one of them is on the board of directors.

Officers chosen are: E. L. Chipley, president; J. C. Young, vice president; and James E. Cotton, secretary-treasurer. August Mahieu and Samuel Pa dot of Charleroi were present at the organization meeting.

KEPT AN EYE ON THE HOUSE.

A Neighborly Act That Resulted in a Comedy of Errors.

A gentleman and his wife occupying a villa in a London suburb asked a neighbor to "keep an eye on the place while they were away on their annual holiday. The neighbor consented and on the first night of his caretaking noticed a light in the bedroom of the presumably unoccupied house and saw the light extinguished.

Accompanied by a policeman, the neighbor made a forcible entrance through the scullery window, and quickly the two men made their way to the bedroom. The light of the constable's bullseye disclosed the head of a man in bed, and the policeman promptly drew his truncheon.

As promptly the occupant of the bed sprang out, and a desperate struggle began. Simultaneously a lady dashed across the room shrieking, threw open the window and at considerable port clambered out. A second constable, passing at the moment, concluded that the lady was bent on suicide and, entering the front garden, held himself in readiness to catch the woman, who appeared to be about to fling herself to the ground.

The neighbor, however, dragged the lady back into the room, and then the truth began to assert itself. The captured invader of the empty house and the escaping lady were the occupant and his wife, who had suddenly changed their holiday arrangements without informing their too vigilant neighbor.—

FIVE THOUSAND DRUGGISTS

Unite in Opinion Regarding One Medicine.

If any one should know the value of a medicine it is the retail druggist who sells it.

Therefore, when over five thousand of the best retail druggists in the country recommended Vinol, our delicious and liver and iron tonic, without oil, the greatest tonic reconstruction and strength creator they have ever sold it must indicate the value of Vinol.

We could publish columns of such testimony as the following:

Mr. E. C. Spens, Druggist of Alpena, Mich., says: "Vinol is the ideal tonic reconstructor as it really today is the best remedy we have on our shelves."

Mr. C. F. Bushlitz, the leading druggist of Springfield, Ohio, says:
"Vinol gives better satisfaction than any medicine I have sold in my store.

We ask every run-down, nervous, debilitated and weak man or person suffering from chronic coughs, colds or bronchitis, to try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that their money will be returned if it does not do all we claim.

UP THE RIVER

During the first two months of the new year the births in Belle Vernon have exceeded the deaths by five. In January there were 2 deaths and 10 births; in February 3 births and 6 deaths.

Samuel G. Dixon, State Commissioner of Health has appointed Samuel B. Steepy of Washington township Fayette county as health officer for Belle Vernon.

The Ladies Aid society of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Belle Vernon will hold their annual Easter bazaar in the church on Friday and Saturday evenings March 14 and 15.

Belle Vernon merchants are getting ready for the spring campaign and are advertising liberally in their home paper. Since the organization of the Civic club and the efforts to advance the interests of the town the local stores have caught the spirit, and more of the trade that formerly went out of town is being retained at home.

At the regular meeting of the Fayette City council last week John T.
Davidson one of the councilmen, resigned. His successor has not yet been elected by his former colleagues.

The old mill near Fayette City, which was the scene of the chicken fight and raid recently, was not used formerly by the United Brethren congregation of Gillespie for their regular preaching services or for a place in which to worship, is the statement of a member of that congregation. It was however used by them for church socials and suppers.

Fayette City merchants had a splendid array of advertisements of spring and seasonable goods in their home paper, the Journal last week.
The local merchants are not only making bigger efforts than ever to keep trade from going out of town, but are reaching out for outside trade.
The Fayette City stores have improved greatly during the past year.

It is reported that a man who attended the recent chicken fight near Fayette City had two game roosters at the fight and during the scramble to get away when the officers made the raid, picked up a sack in which he thought his roosters were and carried it carefully all the way home only to find out the sack contained two dead birds. He's wondering now where his own live birds are.

A. E. Thomas, cashier of the Citizens Bank at Fayette City was elected cashier of the First National Bank of Monessen last week. Mr. Thomas has tendered his resignation to take effect April 1. He has been cashier of the Citizens for the past five years and is president of the Fayette City school board. His successor at the Citizens has not yet been selected.

Rev. Lawson Campbell, evangelist for the Western Pennsylvania Christian Missionary Society of the Disciples of Christ started a series of evangelistic meetings at the California Christian church Sunday. The meetings will continue for three weeks.

At its regular meeting last week the Phillipsburgh band ordered uniform for the coming summer. The uniforms selected are of navy blue trimmed in gold braid and the latest cut. They will arrive by the first of April and as a result this organization will present a greatly improved appearance this summer. New music has arrived and there is plenty of work ahead. The hours of practice were set at 7:30 to 9 on Tuesday evenings and local musicians are extended an invitation to attend. The band needs altos, tenors and cornets.

Because of the inauguration of the new Federal eight hour law, Howard Carowthers is officiating as auxiliary clerk at the California postoffice.
Mr. Carowthers was formerly assistant postmaster at Roscoe and is well fitted by ability and experience for the position.

Kaufman, who conducts a clothing and clothing store in Fredericktown and in Millsboro has made complete arrangements for the erection of a good sized addition to his Fredericktown store.

Brownville clerks have begun an agitation for early closing hours.
They want to open up at 8 a. m. and close at 6 p. m. They are of the opinion that nine hours ought to be a day's work with perhaps 14 on Saturday and Monday on pay days.

FAST BOXING

MATCHES AT

TURNER HALL

Deitz of Charleroi and Rooney of Donora Meet in the Final

IS ALMOST A KNOCKOUT

Lovers of good boxing got to see plenty of mixing at Turner Hall on Saturday night when Miles Rooney, of Donora, and Mutts Deitz, of Charleroi fought a six-round bout. It came pretty nearly not being a one round affair let alone six rounds.
Deitz clattered Rooney on the left side of the jaw after about a minute and a half of sparring. The astonished Rooney measured his length on the floor and staid there until it looked as though time was up. Then he wobbled to his feet, to be soaked again with the same kind of blow.
His sensibilities jarred he went under the ropes. Timekeeper H. L.
Swickey rushed into the ring to call time up, but in the hubbub, nobody seemed to hear him. Plainly it looked like a knockout and one to end the whole scrap. Instead of ending the fight it ended the round. By the second round Rooney was in fair shape and stuck to it until the end.
Had there been a decision it would have gone to Deitz.

Deitz and Rooney furnished the final of four matches. After the first round until the fifth Deitz and Rooney mixed it without either getting much of an advantage. In the fifth the Charleroi boy stiffened a right to the Donora lads jaw and put him groggy. When the round ended Rooney was still in rather a collopsible state. The bout was fast with both men fighting hard.

The first preliminary was between the Gillingham twins of Webster.
These lads of about 15 years put up some fast boxing. Kid Frascatore of Donora and Ed. Coleman, of Monessen, battled six rounds without either gaining much of an advantage, save that due to the superior size of Coleman. Young Laurie of Charleroi, and Fritz Elsner of Donora went through six rounds. Elsner was given more to hiding behind his gloves than to boxing and took a lot of punishment.

When he did fight back he planted some pretty heavy blows. Tim Wilson was the referee for all the matches.

Land of the Automat

Germany might almost be called "the land of the automat." Automatic devices of all kinds are popular and are used for a thousand purposes. At all postoffices stamps and post cards are sold by automatic machines; at the railway stations platform tickets and suburban tickets are sold by automatic machines; at the railway stations automat restaurants, where one can secure a glass of beer, wine or liquor, a sandwich, square meal, cup of coffee, chocolate, etc., by dropping a coin in the slot, abound everywhere. Every city of 15,000 or 20,000 population and over has from one to several hundred each restaurants. At railway stations automats sell chocolate, candy, picture post cards and even a little kit of "first aid to the injured" containing a few drops of pain killer, bandages, needle, thread, etc. Ten pfennigs in a slot opens the door of toilet compartments, delivering a towel or piece of soap. A coin in a slot obtains a clear, strong view from a mechanical music box, a pair of shoe strings, a collar button, a visiting card, name plate for suit case, tells one's fortune or weight, etc.—United States Consular Report.

Relieves Neuralgia

Sloan's Liniment gives instant relief from neuralgia or sciatica. It goes straight to the painful part—soothes the nerves and stops the pain. Don't rub—it penetrates.

Mrs. RUDOLPH MISKE, Coates, Wis., writes:—"I have used Sloan's Liniment for toothache and neuralgia in the head where nothing else would help me and I would not be without the Liniment in the house."

medicine in the world. It has cured me of neuralgia; those pains have all gone and I can truly say your Liniment has cured me."

Pain All Gone
Mrs. J. R. SWING, of 577 So. 14th St., Louisville, Ky., writes:—"I suffered with quite a severe neuralgic headache for four months without any relief. I used your Liniment for two or three nights and I haven't suffered with my head since. I have found many quick reliefs from pain by the use of Sloan's Liniment; and believe it to be the best Liniment on the market to-day. I can recommend it for what it did for me."

Price 25c., 50c., and $1.00 at All Dealers.

We Loan Money

If you are interested we will be glad to tell you all about it without charge. The average person does not realize what a benefit an institution of this kind really is. Suppose you have four or five petty bills which you are trying to pay. It takes all you can make to pay them and keep your credit good, each one wants something each week and by paying them it keeps you continually short. Would it not be a great deal nicer if you came to us and obtained enough ready cash to pay them all up and not have them dragging on you for so long a time? Courteous and obliging employees.

Announce the Display and Sale of accepted styles for Spring and Summer in Women's, Misses' and Girls' Apparel, Fabrics and Dress Accessories.

Exclusive imported and domestic models in Millinery, Suits, Coats, Gowns, Dresses and Waists are being shown in the handsomest and most artistic display rooms in Pittsburgh.

An Offended Painter.

Here is a story of Whistler's frascade treatment of Lady Menx, of whom he painted three portraits. It is told in Thomas Way's "Memoirs of Whistler."

"In view of the number of sittings Whistler wanted and his severe treatment of his models, I think it enormously to the credit of Lady Menx that she should have continued through two and started on the third portrait in which she was painted wearing a mantle of Russian sables. There was a story that, being one day not up to the mark, she sent her maid to stand for her, dressed in the sables. This so offended Whistler that promptly the maid's face appeared in place of that of the mistress, and, if the picture still exists, there it probably remains."

Reason For It.

At a debating society some time ago the Irish question was discussed. An English doctor was sustaining the argument that the Irish were naturally a race with right sentiments, but poorly developed. At Liverpool, he said, he had 300 Irish patients on his books and of these only thirty paid him for attendance.

phenomenon that does not admit of an explanation. How can we explain the astounding phenomenon to which the doctor has called our attention? He finds an explanation in the natural depravity of the Irish nature. I, sorr, have another explanation to give, and it is this: the thirty patients recovered!"—Pearson's Weekly.

Parisians and Nerves.

TO SHOW PICTURES OF INAUGURATION

Manager R. S. Coyle has secured a remarkably fine motion picture of the inauguration of President Woodrow Wilson at Washington last week which will be presented tomorrow. This gives the most striking and important scenes of the great national event and shows some of the celebrities that are in the national limelight. There are 600 feet of the film, and no additional charge is made for the feature which is in big demand at picture show houses just now.
